SYMBOL OF STATUS

Since the beginning of time people have been looking for symbols of status, something that shows their power, that they are better than the rest of the world, and that they will ever be, first were the Great Pyramids thousands of year ago, then came those magnificent castles during the middle age; paintings, jewelry and diamonds ruled the last century, and now we are living in the “Lambo” age. I doesn't matter where or when, humans have always seen in material objects their proof of success.

But all those symbols of status have problems, they might be too big to be carried around like the Pyramids, or they can also be forged like diamonds or paintings, for that matter that are also fragile, maybe they are not unique enough. This is where the IamFuckingRich coin came into scene.

UNIQUENESS

There are millions of diamonds around the world, thousands of luxury cars, hundreds of Picassos and a bunch of Da Vinci, but there are only 10 iamFuckingRich coins, and you can't forged them nor create them anymore, they are unique, just like you.

CHARACTERISTICS

iamFuckingRich it's an ERC20 token and, as said before, there are only 10 in A world with over 7.6 billion inhabitants. Do the math, what's important here, is that there never going to be more than 10 iamFuckingRich coins. iamFuckingRich coin is indivisible, either you can afford one or you cannot.

The price for this proof of success is this modern luxury, is 1000ETH for each coin, making it the most valuable coin in the world.

We will never get into touch with an exchange to sell an iamFuckingRich, after all if you want a Rembrandt you can't go to the supermarket. Therefore, there are only two ways of getting one, buying it directly from the iamFuckingRich website or buying it from someone who is reselling it, so that they hefty price tag will be a consequence of fundamental law of supply and demand, and being only 10 in the world, 10k ETH, 20k ETH... 50k ETH... the sky is probably the limit for the asking price.
